Dana joined the firm in March of 2019 after practicing with two insurance defense litigation firms in the Pittsburgh area. Dana has been practicing law since 1987, with experience in a wide range of complex civil litigation including the defense of professional liability claims, premises liability and automobile accident litigation.

Although Dana calls Pittsburgh home she previously lived and practiced in New Jersey and Washington. Dana and her husband have two sons. In her free time Dana enjoys cooking, supporting Pittsburgh sports teams particularly the Penguins, and participating in local running events. Dana is a mentor in a group for beginning runners.
