I have amassed a decade of experience in the Products Liability/Commercial Litigation Practice Groups at Ballard Spahr LLP's New Jersey office. Additionally, I have spent another ten years dedicated to practicing commercial litigation, products liability, and trucking defense at Kenney & Kearney LLP, a distinguished boutique litigation firm.

Born and raised in Philadelphia, I have a son Matthew attending Drexel University, and I live in Haddonfield, NJ, with my daughter Emily, a high school senior. I volunteer with Interfaith Caregivers and Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation. I enjoy playing tennis, golfing, running, and cheering on the big 5 Philly sports teams.
